Dear Harold:

Thanks a lot for the report on Connery. It gives me everything I need except the picture, which I suggest you get by the quickest possible means.

Your suggestion for a cotton picture story is o.k. if we could make it glamorous and get it underwritten by some big shot in the Agriculture Department. If you can get Wallace's or Wickard's daughter to pose in cotton underwear, it is all right with us, but I doubt that it can be done. I would rather do it with a professional model and do it right.

I suggest you be here next Wednesday and we will discuss future stories and possibilities. However, if you are going to be in Wilmington over Labor Day, perhaps you would prefer to come here on Tuesday. Let me know.

Regards,

M. Robert Rogers
